

Further Reading

1. Geographical Association

1.1 GIS in Geography Teaching and Learning

Results from GA project in to the use of GIS, including resources and the impact on teaching and learning.

<http://www.geography.org.uk/projects/gtip/thinkpieces/gis/#5>

1.2 Spatially Speaking

Links to further materials, including commercial GIS providers and free downloads, including support guides, case studies and resources.

<http://www.geography.org.uk/projects/spatiallyspeaking/furthermaterials/#5516>

2. Royal Geographical Society

Getting started with GIS

Dedicated mirror site from RGS, informed and aimed at a wide audience of teachers, from beginners to advanced users. Includes background information, context, case studies, review of free online GIS, further reading and advice.

<http://www.gis.rgs.org/>

3. Ordnance Survey

3.1 GIS Files

Commercial context. Good for adding to knowledge base.

<http://www.ordnancesurvey.co.uk/oswebsite/gisfiles/>

3.2 GIS for Schools

Good library of free teaching and learning resources, guide on obtaining digital map data, informed break-down of GIS applications accepting OS digital map data. An essential read prior to adoption of any GIS within school.

<http://www.ordnancesurvey.co.uk/oswebsite/education/gisforschools/index.html>

4. EMapsite

Detail on the Map Pilot and 'Getting Started' with digital map data.

<http://www.emapsite.com/clientpages/content.aspx?page=becta&type=menu>